

Telecommunications, Media & Technology

We have advised clients on some of the most complex ICT projects and operations.

Navigating the TMT market is challenging. Disruptive innovations create new difficulties for the legislators, operators and users. Our lawyers are fluent in laws and practices in telecommunication, media & technology, they have a clear understanding of the policies and practices of key governmental authorities and regulatory bodies. We stay constantly engaged with new technologies and regulations including cloud services, data centers, fintech, electronic payment, computerized inquiry and remittance services, software licensing, and protecting and enforcing intellectual property rights. We also assist businesses in complying with laws on cyber security, privacy and data protection compliance exercises and data protection advice in relation to the management of data relevant to various transactions, and marketing exercises.

Our TMT practice covers:-

- Broadband, Internet and e-commerce
- Cloud services agreements
- Cyber security
- Data protection law issues
- Digital media
- Fintech
- Information and communication technology
- IP television
- ISP regulatory compliance
- IT outsourcing
- Mobile and e-payment
- Technology licensing and transfer
- Telecom tower services
